

I think it is ridiculous that you would want to remove something from the XM network as Weather and Traffic. I can contest that I use the Traffic for Houston everyday, it is the most up to date resource I have for the updates in traffic. If I were to go by a normal FM radio station, it could take me up to thirty minutes to get a traffic report when I need it ASAP. I think the problem here is not traffic and weather it is the fact that somebody found an issue about something stupid, and wanted to make a political appeal over it. Give us all a break and save it, threatening XM with removing the traffic and weather is stupid. Just because that one person wasn't smart enough to think of the concept that XM has.
